

Field experience to learn health system in Thailand

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This program is a hands-on training program designed for the students' exchange program and public health practitioners working for the improvement of the health system. The program is designed under the WHO six-building blocks. The participants will learn from WHO six building blocks and observe the study linkages among health-related organizations at Regional, Provincial, District and Sub-district levels. This program will be conducted on the vertical and horizontal linkage among the health organisation and its network. As it is the field-based experience; participants will learn the critical thinking strategy and deal with the problems discussed and observed in the field during a various field visit. Moreover, this program is conducted with Master of Public Health (MPH) Students and the MPH students are from various study background and countries, therefore, participants will be benefited to work on the multi-cultural atmosphere. The closing of the program will be with the presentation on the observation during the field from different designated groups and the expert will share their feedback on it.

Who's the Course Suitable for?

This course is aimed at students, public health staff.

5 DAYS COURSE

*$900 per person
with minimum of 20
participants*
